

STAND HANG UP FOR GOOD CITIZENSHIP!

FOR ANY SCHOOL TO SHOW THE WORLD A LITTLE OF THEIR ART & SOUL...

- anytime in 2016, find a place for a permanent collage to exhibit and enjoy
- invite all pupils and families to join in depicting your choice of SDG
- be part of an imaginative gallery displayed in schools far and wide

MOST SCHOOLS are pretty good at displays of art made by pupils. Most have a lot of imagination. And most like the chance to show they really know what it takes to be good citizens of the world ahead of them.

That's why tens of thousands of pupils in the UK took part in the Schools Stand Up Against Poverty activities based on the Millennium Development Goals and linked to the annual UN Day for the Eradication of Poverty.

Now here's a similarly simple idea to join in and enjoy - when it suits, with a lot of fun and pats on the back, in which families and friends can lend a hand. And as a seriously informal, unfussy and totally free Club.

To be in on things, you just arrange to create your depiction of one of the 17 new United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). You'll be in an art gallery scattered far and wide – but viewable on-line 24/7.

HERE'S HOW - ANYTIME DURING 2016

- Choose a Sustainable Development Goal
- Create your own SDG collage – ideally from small things brought in from family homes eg spoons, pencils, buttons, photos, Fairtrade labels, or whatever (see over)
- Any size is fine – whatever suits
- Exhibit it for all to admire (and make a song and dance about it as you do so) as a SMSC/PSHE/Citizenship resource

SHARE YOUR GOOD NEWS Tell your families, friends, former pupils, local press, parish, papers, radio, council. And NB:

- Send in a photo and school details to go in the impressive on-line catalogue

THE ORIGINS? In 2015, the unique all-weather gallery of Greeters and Inspirers opened to amuse and uplift thousands of people passing St Joseph's church in Bracknell town centre. In July, paintings of flowers and kisses on its small World School Wall were added as an 18th birthday present to the remarkable student Malala Yousafzai – and a thank-you to all the world's brave and inspiring voices for social justice. In December, local primary schools started adding delightful SGD collages. See www.bracknellcommunitygallery.org

FOR EXAMPLE? The Imamalala Tree on the left is made of pens and pencils to illustrate SDG4 Quality Education. At the top of the page the pictures came from primary pupils and families using spare spoons for SDG2 Zero Hunger, and plastic money bags for SDG1 End Poverty. And an array of solar-powered fairy lights illustrates SDG7 Affordable and Clean Energy!
